

Medicines information in pregnancy and breastfeeding - helpline

Is this safe for my baby?

The Obstetric Medicines Information Service (OMIS) at King Edward Memorial Hospital is made up of a team of specialist pharmacists committed to providing you with free, up-to-date, evidence-based information about the safe use of medicines in pregnancy and breastfeeding, including:

- Prescription and over-the-counter medicines
- Vitamins
- Vaccinations
- Chemicals
- Recreational drugs
- Paternal exposure and more

Frequently asked questions

- Is this medicine safe to use during my pregnancy or while I am breastfeeding?
- Where is the best place to find information?
- Is there someone I can speak to?
- I have questions regarding herbal supplements, cosmetics and more

Call to speak to an obstetric pharmacist (08) 6458 2723
Monday to Friday 8.30am–5pm

